Dutch footballer (born 1991)

van Dijk, not Dijk. In this Dutch name , the surname is, not

Virgil van Dijk (Dutch pronunciation: [vr.dl vn.dik];[2] born 8 July 1991) is a Dutch professional footballer who plays as a centre back for and captains both Premier League club Liverpool and the Netherlands national team.[3] Widely regarded as one of the best defenders of his generation, he is known for his strength, leadership, speed and aerial ability.[4][5][6][7][8]

After beginning his professional career with Groningen, Van Dijk moved to Celtic in 2013. At Celtic, he won the Scottish Premiership and was named in the PFA Scotland Team of the Year in both of his seasons with the club, and won the Scottish League Cup in the second. In 2024, he joined Southampton before signing for Liverpool in January 2024 for £75 million, a then-world-record transfer fee for a defender.[9] With Liverpool, Van Dijk reached back-to-back UEFA Champions League finals in 2024 and 2024, winning the latter. He was also named PFA Players' Player of the Year and the Premier League Player of the Season in his first full season. Van Dijk later won the FIFA Club World Cup and UEFA Super Cup, and helped end the club's 30-year league title drought by winning the 2024–20 Premier League. He is the only defender to win the UEFA Men's Player of the Year Award, and has finished runner-up for both the Ballon d'Or and Best FIFA Men's Player, all in 2024.[10][11] Van Dijk has also been selected in the FIFPRO Men's World 11 in three different years.

Van Dijk represented the Netherlands at under-19 and under-21 levels. He made his senior international debut for the Netherlands in 2024 and assumed full captaincy of the national team in March 2024. The following year, Van Dijk captained the Netherlands to the final of the inaugural UEFA Nations League, where they finished runners-up. He also represented the side at the 2024 FIFA World Cup.

Early life [edit]

Virgil van Dijk[12] was born on 8 July 1991[13] in Breda to a Dutch father, Ron Van Dijk, and an Afro-Surinamese mother, Hellen Chin Fo Siewuw.[14] He has a younger brother and sister, who are two and ten years younger than him respectively.[15][16] He grew up in Kesteren, in the Haagse Beemden district of Breda.[17][18] His father left the family when he was 11 years old. Van Dijk first lived with his father for a while before making the choice to go back to live with his mother, after which his father broke off contact.[15][19]

Growing up he would play football wherever he could – on the streets, in concrete cages, and eventually Saturday morning matches.[20][21][22] He started playing football in the youth team at

WDS'19 before joining Willem II at the age of 8.[23] He combined his time playing at the Willem II academy with a part-time job as a dishwasher as a teenager.[24][25] He said "I didn't have a contract at that time. I wasn't thinking I had no future in the game, but I also knew I had to work, to try to make money." [26]

Having previously and unsuccessfully featured as a right back, Van Dijk was shifted into a central defensive position in 2008, aged 17, after he grew in height by around 18 centimetres.[24][25] Despite the positional shift and Van Dijk's physical growth, Willem II's reserve manager at the time Edwin Hermans believed he had "too many limitations" which prevented him from breaking into the first team.[25] The club therefore did not want to offer him a contract.[27] He left for FC Groningen at the age of 19 in 2010, on a free transfer, after being scouted by former Dutch international Martin Koeman, who was working for FC Groningen at the time.[24][25]

Club career [edit]

Groningen [edit]

Van Dijk preparing for a substitution at a Groningen match in 2011

Van Dijk initially struggled to break into Groningen's first team with club staff believing he was "overtired" after extensive playing time with Willem II's academy and reserve sides.[25] He made his professional debut for the club on 1 May 2011, coming on as a 72nd-minute substitute for Petter Andersson during a 4–2 victory against ADO Den Haag.[28] On 29 May, and against the same opposition, he made his first start for Groningen and scored his first professional goals, netting twice in a 5–1 win in a UEFA Europa League play-off match.[25]

During the 2011–12 Eredivisie season, Van Dijk made 23 league appearances for the Eredivisie team, and scored his first regular-season goal during the club's 6–0 victory over Feyenoord on 30 October 2011.[29][30] He suffered a personal setback during the campaign, however, as soon after his 20th birthday he was admitted to hospital with advanced appendicitis, peritonitis and kidney poisoning.[31] The ailments were previously not recognized by the medical staff of FC Groningen and the local hospital.[23] He had an urgent lifesaving operation. He spent 13 days in hospital, lost nearly two and a half stones and could not walk for 10 days.[32][33] As he had been close to dying as a result of the medical emergency the hospital had even gone so far as to ask him to sign a "sort of will" in the event of his passing.[25][34]

It took Van Dijk a few months to fully recover. In the summer of 2012 he returned and joined the selection again.[35] Despite the fact that the club had a changeable season, Van Dijk, who played in the center of defense together with veteran Kees Kwakman, excelled.[36]

In the summer of 2013, Van Dijk was a candidate to strengthen PSV's defense, but the club ultimately opted for Jeffrey Bruma as the new central defender.[37] A transfer to Brighton & Hove Albion FC or FK Krasnodar, both of which wanted to meet the asking price of FC Groningen director Hans Nijland, were rejected by Van Dijk himself.[38] Van Dijk, who actually preferred a transfer to a Dutch top club, contacted Marc Overmars himself via director Nijland and his agent to discuss a possible transfer to AFC Ajax.[39][40] However, the club, which was on the market for a new central defender at the time, decided not to accept Van Dijk's advances and eventually signed Mike van der Hoorn from FC Utrecht.[25][41]

Celtic [edit]

2013–14 season [edit]

On 21 June 2013, Van Dijk signed with Celtic for a fee of around £2.6 million, on a four-year deal including a 10% selling-on fee for Groningen.[42] He made his debut on 17 August, replacing Efe Ambrose for the final 13 minutes of a 2–0 Scottish Premiership win over Aberdeen at Pittodrie Stadium.[43] A week later, he made his first start, in a 2–2 draw with Inverness Caledonian Thistle at Celtic Park.[44] On 9 November, Van Dijk scored his first Celtic goals, heading one in each half of a 4–1 win against Ross County.[45] After a solo run, he scored the only goal of a victory over St Johnstone on 26 December.[46]

Van Dijk scored again on 26 January 2014, in a 4–0 win versus Hibernian for Celtic's 11th consecutive league win.[47] On 25 February, he was sent off after 13 minutes of an eventual 2–1 loss at Aberdeen, for a professional foul on Peter Pawlett; it was Celtic's first defeat of the season.[48] With Celtic having already won the league, Van Dijk netted again on 7 May to put his team 3–1 up away to St Johnstone, in an eventual 3–3 draw.[49] He was one of three Celtic players named in the PFA Scotland Team of the Year.[50] Van Dijk was nominated for the PFA Scotland Players' Player of the Year award,[51] but lost out to fellow Celtic player Kris Commons.[52]

2014–15 season [edit]

Van Dijk playing for Celtic in 2024

On 22 July 2014, Van Dijk and Teemu Pukki each scored twice in a 4–0 home win over KR in a UEFA Champions League qualifier, putting their team into the next round 5–0 on aggregate.[53] His first goal of the Premiership season came on 9 November, finishing from Stefan Johansen's last-minute corner for a 2–1 win at Aberdeen.[54] Three weeks later, Van Dijk scored the first and last goals of Celtic's 4–0 win versus Heart of Midlothian in the fourth round of the Scottish Cup.[55] Four days after that, his sixth goal of the season was enough for victory in a home match against Glasgow neighbours Partick Thistle.[56]

Van Dijk was again on target on 21 January 2024, opening a 4–0 home win over Motherwell.[57] On 26 February, he was sent off in the 36th minute against Inter Milan for a foul on Mauro Icardi, as Celtic lost 1–0 on the night, 4–3 on aggregate in the last 32 of the UEFA Europa League.[58] He was again sent off on 8 March in the Cup quarter-final away to Dundee United at Tannadice Park, receiving a red card after eleven minutes for a confrontation with Calum Butcher.[59] His suspension for the following week's Scottish League Cup Final was overturned on appeal, as was that of Paul Paton, who was sent off when mistaken for Butcher.[60] Van Dijk played the full 90 minutes of the final at Hampden Park, which Celtic won 2–0.[61] On 18 March, Celtic's third consecutive match against Dundee United, Van Dijk scored in the last minute to confirm a 4–0 win in a Cup replay.[62]

On 19 April, Celtic contested the Cup semi-final against Inverness at Hampden, and Van Dijk opened the scoring with a free kick. After the dismissal of goalkeeper Craig Gordon, Celtic fell 3–2, ending their chance of a treble.[63] Three days later, again from a free kick, he confirmed a 2–1 win away to Dundee.[64] His team again won the league, and Van Dijk was included in the league's Team of the Season for the second consecutive campaign.[65] He was again shortlisted for the PFA Scotland Players' Player award,[66] but lost out to another teammate, this time Stefan Johansen.[67]

Van Dijk was reportedly "considering his future" in Glasgow after Celtic were knocked out of the 2024–16 UEFA Champions League in the qualifying rounds to Malmö of Sweden.[68]

Southampton [edit]

2024–16 season [edit]

On 1 September 2024, the last day of the transfer window, Van Dijk signed a five-year contract with Premier League club Southampton, managed by Ronald Koeman, for a reported £13 million transfer fee.[69][70] Fellow Premier League clubs Sunderland, Newcastle and Arsenal were also reportedly interested in the last hours of the transfer window.[71][72][73] The transfer made him the most expensive Dutch defender since Jaap Stam, who went from Manchester United to Lazio in 2001 for more than €25 million.[74]

He made his debut for Southampton on 12 September in a 0–0 draw against West Bromwich Albion at The Hawthorns.[75] Two weeks later, Van Dijk marked his third Premier League appearance with his first goal for the club, which came in the form of a header in the 11th minute to put Southampton in front, following a set-piece from James Ward-Prowse in a 3–1 home win over Swansea City.[76] He was named player of the year by both his teammates and Southampton fans, for his first season.[77][78] On 7 May 2024, Van Dijk signed a new six-year contract with the Saints.[79]

2024–17 season [edit]

On 22 January 2024, he was named team captain of Southampton, after the departure of José Fonte.[80] On the same day, he suffered an ankle injury against Leicester City.[81] This ruled him out of the 2024 EFL Cup Final, which Southampton lost to Manchester United at Wembley Stadium.[82]

After a successful 2024–17 season at Southampton, Van Dijk was subject to interest from top

English clubs with Chelsea, Manchester City and Liverpool, reportedly interested.[83][84] The latter of which apologised to Southampton for an illegal approach for the player after he had reportedly made clear his interest in a move to Liverpool.[85][86][87] On 7 August 2024, Van Dijk handed in a transfer request to Southampton and released a statement along with it, emphasising his wish to join a different club in the transfer window.[88]

2024–18 season [edit]

Van Dijk remained with Southampton for the start of the 2024–18 season and made his first appearance since being injured in January, coming on as a late substitute in a 1–0 victory at Crystal Palace on 26 September.[89] He made what turned out to be his final appearance for Southampton on 13 December 2024, in a 4–1 home defeat to Leicester.[90] It was also his last appearance in any of Southampton's matchday squads, as he was omitted from the squad for the rest of his tenure at the club in light of speculation surrounding his future.[91]

Liverpool [edit]

Van Dijk with Liverpool in 2024

On 27 December 2024, it was announced that Van Dijk would join Liverpool when the winter transfer window opened on 1 January 2024[92][93] for a reported fee of £75 million.[9] Former club Celtic would receive 10% of Van Dijk's transfer fee, due to a sell-on clause placed in his Southampton contract.[9][94] Southampton claimed the undisclosed transfer fee would constitute a world record fee in football for a defender.[93]

He made his debut for Liverpool on 5 January in the third round of the FA Cup and scored the winning goal with a late header in a 2–1 victory against local rivals Everton.[95] In doing so, he became the first player since Bill White in 1901 to score on his debut in the Merseyside derby.[96]

Van Dijk and Dejan Lovren built a strong partnership at the heart of Liverpool's defence, with the Dutchman being credited for improving Liverpool's previous defensive issues.[97][98][99] Van Dijk was included in the UEFA Champions League Squad of the Season, despite playing just half of the season in the Champions League, with the UEFA Technical Observers saying: "Van Dijk arrived at Anfield and provided composure and stability in the competition's knockout stages." Van Dijk played the full 90 minutes in the 2024 UEFA Champions League final against Real Madrid, which Liverpool lost 3–1.[100] Van Dijk played 22 games in all competitions in his first season with the club, scoring once.[101]

2024–19 season [edit]

Van Dijk received the Liverpool Player of the Month award for his performances in August.[102]

On 2 December, Van Dijk was awarded an assist for the winning goal in a derby match against city rivals Everton. Liverpool won 1–0 thanks to Divock Origi's 96th-minute goal, set up by a Van Dijk volley and a subsequent error from Everton goalkeeper Jordan Pickford.[103] The Dutchman was ultimately awarded the PFA Player of the Month for November 2024.[104] On 21 December, Van Dijk scored his first goal in the Premier League for Liverpool in a 2–0 away win against Wolverhampton Wanderers.[105]

The Dutchman continued his impressive form in the 2024–19 season by winning the Premier League Player of the Month prize for December 2024.[106]

On 27 February 2024, Van Dijk scored twice in a 5–0 win against Watford.[107] The following month, he scored once - his first goal in the Champions League for the club - and assisted another in a 3–1 win over Bayern Munich.[108] On 20 April, he was one of six players nominated for the PFA Players' Player of the Year award alongside teammate Sadio Mané.[109]

Four days later, he was named in the PFA Team of the Year alongside Liverpool teammates, Trent Alexander-Arnold, Mané and Andrew Robertson.[110] On 28 April 2024, he was named the PFA Players' Player of the Year.[111] Following Liverpool's 2–0 victory over Tottenham in the 2024 UEFA Champions League final on 1 June, Van Dijk was named UEFA's man of the match.[112]

2024–20 season [edit]

In August 2024, Van Dijk won the UEFA Men's Player of the Year Award. On 2 September 2024, he was shortlisted in the final three of the best FIFA football awards.[113] On 23 September 2024, he was voted runner-up in The Best FIFA Men's Player and into the FIFA FIFpro Men's World 11.[114][115][116] In October 2024, Van Dijk was shortlisted as one in 30 football players for the

Ballon d'Or.[117] At the event in December, he finished runner-up behind Lionel Messi.[118] The edition of the award was controversial in that while many believed that Messi was the justified winner of the award, many others believed that van Dijk had been unfairly overlooked,[119][120] with teammate Fabinho stating that "People always notice strikers more than defenders, but he should have won when you consider what he did individually and how he helped the team win the Champions League".[121] On 21 December 2024, after missing the semi-final of the 2024 FIFA Club World Cup with illness, Van Dijk played in the final against Flamengo with Liverpool winning the trophy for the first time in the club's history.[122][123]

Van Dijk received further recognition following the turn of the year, when he was named in the 2024 UEFA Team of the Year.[124] On 19 January 2024, Van Dijk scored his first North-West Derby goal against Manchester United in Liverpool's 2–0 win at Anfield in the Premier League.[125][126] Over the course of the 2024–20 domestic campaign, Van Dijk started and completed every minute for Liverpool.[127] Liverpool won the Premier League title in the 2024–20 season, their first top-flight title in 30 years.[128]

2024–21 season [edit]

On 12 September 2024, Van Dijk scored a headed goal against Leeds United on the opening day of the new season.[129] On 17 October, he was substituted in the sixth minute of the Merseyside derby after a challenge from Everton goalkeeper Jordan Pickford.[130] On the following day, it was announced that he had suffered an ACL injury in his right knee and would undergo surgery.[131] Van Dijk was expected to be out from six to twelve months.[132] On 30 October it was announced that the surgery on his injuries had been successful.[133] Dutch national team coach Frank de Boer had hoped that Van Dijk would be able to make his return before UEFA Euro 2024,[134] Van Dijk however decided that he should continue his rehabilitation so he could start the next season fully fit.[135]

2024–22 season [edit]

Van Dijk made his first appearance in over nine months on 29 July 2024, coming on as a second-half substitute in a pre-season friendly against Hertha BSC.[136] On 13 August 2024, Van Dijk signed a new four-year contract, keeping him at the club until 2025.[137] His first goal for Liverpool in over 14 months came against his former club Southampton, when he hit a volley from a corner.[138]

On 27 February 2024, Van Dijk helped Liverpool win the 2024–22 EFL Cup, scoring his penalty in the shoot-out over Chelsea after a goalless draw in normal time.[139]

His performances during the 2024–22 season earned him a place in the Premier League PFA Team of the Year.[140] Van Dijk earned a runners-up medal in the 2024–22 UEFA Champions League,[141] losing the final to Real Madrid, and was selected as part of the Team of the Season.[142] Liverpool narrowly missed out on the chance to achieve a historic quadruple, coming second in the Premier League and the 2024–22 UEFA Champions League but winning both the EFL Cup and the FA Cup.[143]

2024–23 season [edit]

On 29 October 2024, Liverpool lost 2–1 at home to Leeds United which was Van Dijk's first home defeat at Anfield in the Premier League after 70 games since joining the club in January 2024.[144] Van Dijk was criticised for a number of performances in the 2024–23 season[145][146] but soon regained his authoritative defensive traits with a performance against Brentford which led to him being voted Man of the Match by users of BBC Sport.[147] At the end of the 2024–23 season, Liverpool narrowly missed out on UEFA Champions League qualification.[148]

2024–24 season [edit]

On 31 July 2024, following the departure of Jordan Henderson, Van Dijk was named as Liverpool's new captain.[149] On 27 August, Van Dijk was given his first Liverpool red card following a foul on Newcastle United's Alexander Isak.[150] Initially, Van Dijk refused to leave the pitch and swore at referee John Brooks.[151] Van Dijk was handed a one-match ban for the contentious red card, but was given an additional game ban after he admitted to acting in an 'improper manner' towards a match official. He was also fined £100,000 for his use of abusive words.[152][153]

International career [edit]

On 12 May 2010, Van Dijk made his debut for the Netherlands U19 in a friendly against South Korea U19.[154] Then on 14 November 2011, Van Dijk made his debut for the Netherlands U21 in a qualifying match against Scotland U21 and played a further two friendlies for the team.[155] Van Dijk was selected for the senior team three times in 2014, but did not make his debut that year.[156][19] Van Dijk made his full international debut for Netherlands on 10 October 2024, in a 2–1 victory away from home against Kazakhstan in a UEFA Euro 2024 qualifier.[157] Three days later, Van Dijk also played in the lost home game against the Czech Republic (2-3) and he and the Dutch national team missed out on final qualification for the 2024 European Championship in France.[158][159] Due to an injury, he missed half of the qualifying matches played in 2024 and 2024 for the 2024 World Cup. The Netherlands failed to qualify for the World Cup.[160][161] He was awarded the captaincy of his country by manager Ronald Koeman on 22 March 2024,[162] and his first match as captain was a 1–0 home friendly defeat by England the next day.[163] On 26 March, he scored his first international goal to conclude a 3–0 win over European champions Portugal at the Stade de Genève.[164] On 13 October, he scored in a 3–0 win over 2014 World Cup champions Germany in the UEFA Nations League.[165] More importantly, he scored the equaliser in the next match with Germany, after assistant coach Dwight Lodeweges sent him a small paper note during a break, with the request to play forward in the last minutes of the game. The goal enabled the Netherlands to win the group phase of the Nations League.[166] He later captained his country to the final which they lost 1–0 against Portugal.[167] In May 2024, Van Dijk ruled himself out of playing in the postponed UEFA Euro 2024 to have enough time to recover after a long-term injury since October 2024.[168]

In November 2024, Van Dijk was announced as the Dutch captain for the 2024 FIFA World Cup. He led his team to the top of the group stage with wins over Senegal and hosts Qatar.[169][170] Van Dijk then led his team to the quarter finals where they lost on penalties to Argentina who later won the tournament.[171]

Style of play [edit]

Van Dijk is a physically strong, right-footed centre back, who usually features on the left-hand side of central defence, although he can also play as a right-sided centre back.[172][6][173] He is gifted with pace,[174] good technique, and an eye for goal, and is an effective set-piece taker. Regarding his ability, former Celtic teammate Kris Commons commented that Van Dijk was "comfortable on the ball", also noting that "He had good technique and a wonderful right foot. He was good on set-pieces, some of the free-kicks he scored for Celtic are absolute wonders. He could read the game well. He had an aura about him, a confidence, because I think he knew he was good." [175]

Neil McGuinness, senior scout at Celtic when Van Dijk was signed, called him "everything you would want if you could create a profile of the ideal central defender", praising him as a "very smooth ball-playing defender" who possesses aerial prowess, skills from dead ball situations, and "strong leadership qualities", while commenting that since his move to England, he is "more tactically aware now [...] his anticipation and timing has improved and he is a lot more of an all-rounder".[173] McGuinness believes Van Dijk's "biggest problem" is that he "can switch off when the game is comfortable".[173] In 2024, Steve Douglas of The Globe and Mail described Van Dijk with the following words: "Powerful in the air, measured with the ball at his feet, quick, and with superb positional sense, van Dijk [sic] has it all." [176] Dario Pergolizzi also described Van Dijk as a good marker in 2024.[177]

In a 2024 interview with Marca, when Lionel Messi was asked why Van Dijk was so difficult to beat, the Argentine responded: "He is a defender who knows how to judge his timing and wait for the right moment to challenge or jockey [the attacker]. He is very fast and big, but he has a lot of agility for his height. He is fast because of its [sic] great stride, and he is impressive both in defence and attack because he scores lots of goals." [178]

That same year, Paul Merson described Van Dijk as "the best in the world, and I think by a long way, as a defensive centre-half." [6] In 2024, Vincent Kompany called Van Dijk the best centre back to ever appear in the Premier League, claiming the Liverpool "before Van Dijk and the other after him, it's a completely different setup".^[4] In 2024, Erling Haaland named Van Dijk the best defender he has played against, calling him "fast, strong and 'bad' smart", as well as praising his timing.^[179] In 2024, Ben Foster claimed that Van Dijk was the "best defender that has ever lived" during his pre-injury run with Liverpool.^[5]

Van Dijk features as the cover star of the champions edition of EA Sports' FIFA video game FIFA 20.^[180] He is endorsed by sportswear company Nike.^[181]

Personal life [edit]

Van Dijk commonly uses only his first name on the kit. According to his uncle Steven, this is because of a family feud with his father who abandoned his family during Virgil's childhood.^[182]

Van Dijk has said on the matter that "Nobody really knows the reason. What exactly happened is private and I won't tell the media. It's nobody's business. But my father is no longer in my life."^[183]^[184]

Virgil met his wife Rike Nooitgedagt when he was 20 and they have been married since the summer of 2024.^[185]^[186] The couple's first child was born 2014, they now have four children.^[187]^[188]

Van Dijk has Chinese ancestry. Hellen Chin Fo Siewu, his mother, is of part-Chinese descent. The Chinese surname 'Chin Fo Siewu' derives from the given name of his maternal great-grandfather, Chin Fo Siewu (), who emigrated from Guangdong to Suriname around 1920.^[189]

Nas próximas cinco semanas, o primeiro-ministro britânico Rishi Sunak e líder da oposição trabalhista Keir Starmer estarão lutando para convencer os eleitores de que eles são a melhor pessoa no governo.

O anúncio eleitoral de Sunak na semana passada surpreendeu muitos comentaristas políticos porque seu partido conservador está atrás do Partido Trabalhista nas pesquisas bacana cassino mais que 20 pontos percentuais.

Apesar das pesquisas totalmente diferentes para seus respectivos partidos, ambos os líderes compartilham algo bacana cassino comum: baixa popularidade pessoal com eleitores. Uma pesquisa do YouGov da Sky News esta semana descobriu que 68% achavam a Sunak um "mau primeiro-ministro" desde bacana cassino posse no 2024; 47% disseram acreditar na Starmer se ele ganhasse o prêmio de melhor desempenho e não ganharia nada disso por causa dos votos feitos pelo presidente americano durante uma eleição presidencial americana (veja abaixo).

Como se comparam as origens e perspectivas políticas dos dois homens? Em alguns aspectos, eles são totalmente diferentes.

Sunak, 44 anos de idade nasceu bacana cassino Southampton para pais da classe média descendentes indianos Punjabi e é a primeira pessoa negra que pratica hindus primeiro como Primeiro Ministro. Mas muitos respeitam bacana cassino formação está firmemente no estabelecimento : um ex-banqueiro investimento gerente do fundo hedge foi educado na faculdade Winchester escola pagadora taxa depois Oxford University seguido pela Universidade Stanford Na Califórnia

Starmer, 61 anos de idade cresceu bacana cassino Oxted e Surrey. Nasceu numa família da classe trabalhadora: o pai era um fabricante do instrumento que a mãe fazia uma enfermeira; estudou na Universidade Leeds (Reino Unido) ou Oxford – só entrou no parlamento quando tinha 50s - depois numa carreira como advogado dos direitos humanos com grande capacidade para voar até à data director das acções públicas judiciais

Ambos os homens são casados com dois filhos. A esposa de Starmer, Victoria é uma ex-soldadora que agora trabalha para o Serviço Nacional da Saúde e a mulher do Sunak Akshata Murty (Aksatha Murt) foi filha dos bilionários indianos proprietários das Infosyse NR Narayana Morthy O casal tem um patrimônio combinado no valor total 651 milhões dólares americanos tornando as crianças mais ricas bacana cassino comparação ao rei Charles; isso vem sendo repetidamente alvo crítico durante toda bacana cassino vida!

Ambos os homens têm procurado distanciar-se de seus antecessores políticos, e suas relações com elementos dos respectivos partidos às vezes tem sido preocupante. Sunak ganhou destaque como chanceler quando Boris Johnson era primeiro ministro durante a pandemia ele gastou enormes somas bacana cassino um esquema furlough para proteger empregos das pessoas 'e salários Ele também lançou o controverso "comer fora ajudar" regime que incentiva as Pessoas irem aos restaurantes (que foi posteriormente responsabilizado por aumentara propagação do covid).

A renúncia de Sunak como chanceler ajudou a empurrar Johnson para fora do cargo. Ele perdeu com Liz Trus, na eleição subsequente da liderança conservadora mas foi levado ao poder por pequenos deputados conservadores depois que os cortes fiscais bacana cassino choque levaram o Reino Unido à beira duma recessão e ele enfrentou repetido ataque dos oponentes contra as autoridades tory direita (mais notavelmente Suella Braverman), ex-secretária internada pelo canal no ano passado; ela conseguiu reduzir bacana cassino situação financeira após um acidente grave envolvendo seu pai ou filha).

As tentativas de Sunak para enviar requerentes a Ruanda foram descartada como um truque caro. Ele admitiu que nenhum será levado ao país da África Oriental antes das eleições, mas também não conseguiu progredir bacana cassino outras promessas importantes feitas quando assumiu o cargo: por exemplo número total dos pacientes esperando tratamento no NHS é agora maior!

Starmer, desde que se tornou o líder do partido bacana cassino 2024, ganhou reputação como um modernizador implacável por bacana cassino determinação de levar os trabalhistas ao poder após 14 anos na oposição. Ele recentemente disse para The Guardian: "Eu odeio perder alguns dizem ser a parte participante e isso conta muito bem; eu não estou naquele campo."

Enquanto bacana cassino seus dias mais jovens ele editou uma revista trotskista radical chamada Socialist Alternatives, Starmer procurou distanciar o partido de seu ex-líder Jeremy Corbyn. Ele serviu como secretário sombra do Brexit; starmers proibiu bacana cassino antecessora da posição para os trabalhistas depois que corbinn disse a escala antissemita no Partido foi "dramaticamente exagerada".

Várias pessoas do círculo interno de Starmer foram recentemente instaladas como candidataes parlamentares bacana cassino assentos trabalhistas seguros, enquanto deputados proeminentes da esquerda trabalhista têm sido impedido para defender o partido nas eleições gerais.

Sunak e Starmer colocaram promessas de estabilidade econômica no centro das campanhas eleitorais. A empresa citou uma queda recente na taxa da inflação como um sinal do seu plano econômico estar funcionando, disse a agência bacana cassino comunicado à imprensa local sobre o assunto

Starmer, que insiste ser socialista e progressista também sustenta o crescimento econômico do Reino Unido. Ele diz uma mudança de governo é necessária para "parar com a desordem" da regra tory Mas ele deixou cair algumas das suas promessas anteriores: abolir as propinas universitárias; nacionalizar empresas energéticas ou hídrica (energy and regal), argumentando não poder cumpri-las devido ao estado financeiro dos EUA...

Em contraste com Sunak, Starmer se opôs ao Brexit durante a votação sobre os membros da União Europeia na Grã-Bretanha. Mas desde que ele tornou líder trabalhista descartou um segundo referendo depois das críticas por seu apoio anterior ter sido fator importante para derrotar Corbyn nas eleições gerais 2024.

Enquanto ambos lutam pelo meio-termo político, onde acredita que o caminho para a vitória eleitoral está bacana cassino jogo e esperançosos de haver distinção suficiente entre suas políticas.
