Deborah Secco anuncia fim do casamento com Hugo Moura after 9 years together

Rio de Janeiro, April 4th, 2024 - 12:02 PM

The actress Deborah Secco has announced the end of her marriage with director Hugo Moura, with whom she was in a relationship for 9 years. The news was published on the actress's social media profile on Thursday (4), and quickly went viral.

In a brief message, Deborah thanked her followers for the support and said she was ready to move on. "Today, I woke up with the desire to kiss. Someone else?", she wrote.

The publication quickly generated thousands of comments from internet users, who were surprised by the news. "How's the single life going?", "Weren't you prepared?" and "I wasn't ready, but okay, I'm single now" were some of the comments.

According to information from the newspaper Quem, the actress's press office confirmed that the couple had been separated for several months, and that they are still friends and working together. "Yes, they've been separated for a few months, but they're doing it very discreetly, out of respect for each other and for their daughter. They're still friends and working together, and they don't want to talk about it anymore," said a source close to the couple.

Deborah and Hugo were together since 2024 and have a daughter, Maria Flor, who is 8 years old. The last public appearance of the couple together was at their daughter's birthday party in December.

The actress's press office also confirmed that Deborah and Hugo are still friends and working together, and that they don't want to talk about the end of their relationship anymore.

It's worth noting that Deborah's message on social media was the first public statement from the actress since the announcement of her separation from Hugo. The message quickly went viral, and many internet users have been commenting on the news.

This news was first published on the newspaper "Quem" and quickly spread throughout the media.

Deborah Secco is a well-known actress in Brazil, and her personal life has always been a subject of interest to the media and the public.

In an interview with Quem, the actress's press office said that the couple had been separated for several months, but they only decided to announce it now. They also stated that they don't want to talk about it anymore, and that they're focusing on their work and their daughter.

Deborah Secco is known for her roles in several movies and TV shows, such as "A Favorita", "Eu, a Vó e a Boi" and "Deus Salve o Rei". She has also been awarded several times for her performances, including the nod for Best Actress at the Grande Prêmio do Cinema Brasileiro.

On the other hand, Hugo Moura is a director and producer, known for his work in movies such as "O Escaravelho do Diabo" and "A Copa do Mundo dos Animais". He and Deborah have been working together on several projects, and they will continue to do so, according to the press office.
