WSL: Ranking tem salto de Cole Houshmand e brasileiros correndo risco Following the Bells Beach, Australia event, the WSL updated its ranking. Cole Houshmand, who won the competition, jumped 18 places and is now ranked 8th. He previously faced criticism for his controversial win against Brazilian surfer Gabriel Medina. Despite this, Houshmand had an impressive run and defeated Kelly Slater's protege, Kanoa Igarashi, in the quarterfinals. This victory secured his place in the elite surfing league until the end of the year.

The situation for Brazilian surfers is still dangerous. Yago Dora, currently the best Brazilian surfer in the ranking, is in 16th place and still not safe from being cut. Italian Champions Gabriel Medina and Italo Ferreira are 18th and 20th respectively. They have a tougher road ahead, while Samuel Pupo, Miguel Pupo, Caio Ibelli, and Deivid Silva need a miracle at the Margaret River stage.

The WSL Men's Ranking is as follows:
