A term you'll hear a lot when talking about poker odds and expected value is "equity."

Let's take a closer look at what that is.

WHAT IS EQUITY?

Equity is the percentage of the pot that is "yours" based on the likelihood of you winning the hand. The term is often used interchangeably with the likelihood of winning, so if someone says they have 20% equity in the pot, it means they have a 20% chance of winning the hand.

There are three possible ways of calculating equity: hand vs hand, hand vs range, and range vs range. Working out equity for one hand against another is easy, but we often don't have the luxury of knowing what our opponent has, so we need to look at equity in terms of hand vs range.

To do this, we compare our hand to all the hands in our opponent's range to calculate our total equity. Followers of poker legend Phil Galfond may be familiar with this concept, as it's the basis for his "GBucks" theory.

This theory advances the concept of Sklansky dollars and applies it to a range vs hand scenario. It's quite complicated, so I'll do my best to cut it down to bullet points.

Take the equity of your hand against each part of your opponent's range.

Multiply your equity by the number of hand combos in each part of your opponent's range.

Add up the total of the results from each section.

Divide by the number of total hand combos in your opponent's range.

This will give you the average amount of equity your hand has against your opponent's range.

Given how complicated this is at the table and the fact that most casinos won't provide you with a pen and paper or wait the half an hour it would take to work it out, most people don't use this at the tables. Instead, they use a rough version where you try to work out equity against different parts of their opponent's range and average them together. But, of course, even that takes time if you're not used to it!

HOW TO CALCULATE YOUR EV

While we can use pot odds to work out whether or not a call will be profitable, we can't use it to put an exact number on how profitable or unprofitable it will be. If we want to do this, we need to calculate the expected value of a decision (EV), which is the average result of our play if we were to repeat it hundreds or thousands of times.

This is the equation for working out your expected value:

Simply put, if the EV is a positive number, you're making a profitable play, and if it's a negative number, you're making a losing play.

For example, we have a flush draw on the turn, and our opponent has bet R$10 into a R$50 pot. The pot odds calculation says we need 16.66% equity to call, and we know from the poker outs calculation that we will make our flush 18% of the time, but exactly how profitable is our play?

$$EV = (18\% * R$60) - (82\% * R$10)$$

$$EV =$$

$$($10.80) - ($8.20) = R$2.60$$

We can see that the expected value of our R$10 call on the turn is R$2.60, and we confirm that our call is profitable.

Apoyo de China a Rusia "habilita" su guerra en Ucrania, advierten líderes del G7

El apoyo de China a Rusia está 3 "facilitando" su guerra en Ucrania, advirtieron el viernes los líderes de las economías más avanzadas del mundo en un endurecimiento 3 del tono contra Pekín, al tiempo que amenazan con nuevas sanciones contra los actores que apoyen materialmente la máquina de 3 guerra de Moscú.

La advertencia severa, emitida al final de la cumbre anual del Grupo de los Siete (G7) en Italia, 3 se produce cuando Estados Unidos está intensificando los esfuerzos diplomáticos para convencer a Europa de que adopte una postura más 3 dura contra China por su papel en la ayuda a la industria militar-industrial de Rusia.

El G7 advierte a China sobre su apoyo a la industria de defensa rusa

"El apoyo continuo de China a la base industrial de defensa de Rusia está permitiendo que Rusia mantenga su guerra ilegal en Ucrania y tiene implicaciones significativas y de gran alcance en materia de seguridad", dijeron los líderes del G7 en el comunicado del viernes.

"Exhortamos a China a que cese la transferencia de materiales de doble uso, incluidos componentes y equipos de armas, que son insumos para el sector de defensa de Rusia".

Los líderes también advirtieron sobre acciones adicionales, incluidas sanciones, para sancionar a los entes chinos que, según afirman, están ayudando a Rusia a eludir los embargos occidentales.

"Continuaremos adoptando medidas contra los actores en China y terceros países que apoyen materialmente la máquina de guerra de Rusia, incluidas instituciones financieras, de conformidad con nuestros sistemas legales, y otras entidades en China que faciliten la adquisición de artículos para su base industrial de defensa", afirmó el comunicado conjunto, al prometer imponer "medidas restrictivas para prevenir el abuso y restringir el acceso a nuestros sistemas financieros".

Funcionarios estadounidenses han acusado a China de ayudar a Rusia a expandir la fabricación militar, incluida a través de exportaciones como semiconductores, materiales y herramientas de precisión que, según afirman, están permitiendo a Moscú aumentar la producción de tanques, municiones y vehículos blindados.

Pekín ha rechazado la acusación, afirmando que no ha proporcionado armas a ninguna de las partes y mantiene estrictos controles de exportación sobre bienes de doble uso.

Estados Unidos y la Unión Europea ya han impuesto sanciones a empresas chinas, y esta semana, Estados Unidos impuso nuevas sanciones a empresas chinas que suministran semiconductores a Rusia.

"China no suministra armas, pero la capacidad de producirlas y la tecnología disponible para hacerlo", dijo el presidente estadounidense Joe Biden en la cumbre del jueves. "Así que, de hecho, está ayudando a Rusia".

El G7 adopta una postura más dura contra las políticas económicas de China

El G7 también está adoptando una postura más dura contra las políticas económicas de China, especialmente en el asunto de la sobrecapacidad industrial, prometiendo tomar acciones contra "prácticas injustas" para "nivelar el campo de juego y remediar el daño en curso".

"Expresamos nuestras preocupaciones por
