Palmeiras realiza reunião técnica para semifinal contra o Santos

A equipe de futebol do Palmeiras realizou uma reunião técnica nesta sexta-feira, com o objetivo de preparar-se para a semifinal do Campeonato Paulista contra o Santos, que happens this Sunday. At first, the players did some stretching exercises and then went on to the field for some quick touches and marking drills. After that, they did some tactical drills under the watchful eye of coach Abel Ferreira.

The team, which has not been doing well lately, is expected to have almost everyone available for the match, except for two players recovering from injuries.

The game against Santos will take place at Allianz Parque this Sunday at 6 pm. The Palmeiras have sold over 33 thousand tickets so far, and are expecting a packed house for the match.

Before that, however, they will play a friendly match against San Lorenzo on Saturday, which will serve as a warm-up for the final. The technical commission has decided to rest several of their key players, including Gustavo Gómez, who is returning from a foot injury.

In related news, the referee for the match, Leila Pereira, will be under close scrutiny, as there have been several controversies involving refereexperts in the Paulista Championship.

In other news, the president of the Atlético de Madrid, Diego Costa, has admitted that their player, Joao Felix, may be leaving the club, as his form has not been impressive lately.

Also, theFlamengo's security guard, who was arrested for physically abusing a fan, will have to answer for his actions.

In a friendly match, the Brazilian team, Frosinone, will face Bologna, but so far, no time or place for the game has been set.

And finally, former Flamengo goalkeeper, Felipe, who is now an analyst for ESPN, will also be keeping an eye on the upcoming match.
