Sony has seemingly recognized the inevitability of Microsoft's acquisition of Activision Blizzard going through, and has signed an agreement with Microsoft to keep Call of Duty available on PlayStation for the next 10 years.

The news was announced on Sunday by Microsoft's gaming head Phil Spencer. "We are pleased to announce that Microsoft and PlayStation have signed a binding agreement to keep Call of Duty on PlayStation following the acquisition of Activision Blizzard," Spencer tweeted. "We look forward to a future where players globally have more choice to play their favorite games."

A Microsoft spokesperson subsequently confirmed to The Verge that the deal would last for a term of 10 years, and covers Call of Duty only — not any other Activision Blizzard games. That puts it on a par with agreements Microsoft had previously signed with Nintendo, Nvidia, and others.

Microsoft president Brad Smith also commented, saying, "From Day One of this acquisition, we've been committed to addressing the concerns of regulators, platform and game developers, and consumers. Even after we cross the finish line for this deal's approval, we will remain focused on ensuring that Call of Duty remains available on more platforms and for more consumers than ever before."

The signing of the deal marks the end of a long stalemate, during which Microsoft made repeated public offers to keep Call of Duty on PlayStation, while Sony dismissed these and instead attempted to use its leverage with regulators to sink Microsoft's $68.7 billion acquisition of Activision Blizzard completely. "I don't want a new Call of Duty deal. I just want to block your merger," PlayStation boss Jim Ryan reportedly told Activision executives on the day of a meeting with European Union regulators in February.

PlayStation's strategy was to use Call of Duty to convince regulators the merger would kill competition in the console market, because Microsoft would withhold the games from PlayStation or release inferior versions there. But this strategy was none too successful. EU regulators were satisfied with the assurances offered by Microsoft, while the U.K.'s Competition and Markets Authority eventually conceded it was in Microsoft's interest to keep Call of Duty available to PlayStation's huge audience, and switched tack in its opposition of the deal to concerns around cloud gaming.

Only the U.S. Federal Trade Commission ultimately ran with Sony's argument, but when its case was tested in court, it lost. Evidence presented in the case included an emailed admission from Ryan that he had no concerns about PlayStation losing access to Call of Duty "for many years to come."

The signing of the agreement with Microsoft means Sony has effectively ended its opposition to the acquisition, and now expects it to be completed — perhaps as soon as Tuesday, July 18, the deadline by which the deal is supposed to be closed. In theory, two regulators remain opposed to the acquisition. But the FTC has failed to persuade an appeals court to extend an emergency block on the deal, while the CMA has entered into negotiations with Microsoft to find a path forward in the U.K., with an extended deadline of Aug. 29. It's possible Microsoft and Activision will now extend their own deal deadline to give this process time to complete.

Exército chinês apresenta mais uma de suas novas armas: um cão-robô armado

O exército chinês apresentou pokertracker 5 nova arma: um cão-robô equipado com uma arma automática. O cão-robô foi exibido recentemente durante exercícios militares conjuntos com o Camboja, de acordo com o relato da emissora estatal CCTV.

O cão-robô foi acompanhado por um quadricóptero similarmente armado durante os exercícios, que viram as máquinas trabalhando ao lado de soldados humanos pokertracker 5 simulações de ataques urbanos. "Ele pode atuar como um novo membro pokertracker 5 nossas operações de combate urbano, substituindo nossos membros humanos para realizar reconhecimento e identificar alvos inimigos e atacá-los", disse Chen Wei, um soldado chinês, no {sp}.

Tecnologia avançada, mas longe de ser sofisticada

Apesar de pokertracker 5 tecnologia avançada, os robôs assassinos não são peças elegantes de hardware militar; tanto o cão quanto o drone parecem ser tecnologia de consumo de prateleira, com uma arma convencional simplesmente presa no topo. A marca do cão-robô, da empresa chinesa que o construiu, Unitree Robotics, é claramente visível no lado.

Os preços do robô Go2 da empresa começam pokertracker 5 R$1,600 (£1,300), de acordo com o site da empresa. A empresa nega ter vendido produtos para o exército chinês. Não está claro como o exército adquiriu o cão.

Robôs armados: uma tendência crescente

O cão-robô é apenas o último exemplo de uma tendência crescente de robôs armados. A Boston Dynamics, que desenvolveu o protótipo do cão-robô, se recusa a militarizar a tecnologia. No entanto, outras empresas estão aproveitando a oportunidade. Em 2024, a Ghost Robotics demonstrou um robô Vision 60 armado com uma arma personalizada construída pela Sword International. Em 2024, o Exército dos EUA confirmou que está explorando ativamente como usar tal sistema no campo.
