FPF apoia São Paulo e Palmeiras e vai enviar ofício ao STJD contra Textor

A Federação Paulista de Futebol (FPF) manifestou suporte a São Paulo e Palmeiras after the recent statements made by John Textor, owner of Botafogo's SAF. In an official note released tonight, the FPF promised to send a letter to the Superior Tribunal de Justiça Desportiva (STJD) demanding measures against the American entrepreneur.

According to the FPF, Textor's accusations against Palmeiras and São Paulo, which include claims of manipulation of players in games, are grave and unacceptable. The FPF stated that it will provide all necessary support to the clubs and their legal departments to take appropriate action.

The FPF also emphasized that the integrity of clubs and professionals must be respected, and that baseless accusations can cause serious harm to the reputation of clubs and their personnel. The organization concluded that it will not tolerate such actions and will do everything in its power to defend the interests of its members.

In related news, Palmeiras has already taken action against Textor's accusations and has filed a complaint with the STJD. São Paulo has also promised to take appropriate measures against the entrepreneur.

In another development, the Corinthians has drawn with Racing in a disappointing performance. The team's fans have expressed frustration with the uninspired gameplay, and some have called for the dismissal of coach Tite.

In other news, Yuri Alberto scored a goal, but Corinthians were unable to hold on for the win, drawing with Racing in their opening game of the Sul-Americana. The team's fans have expressed disappointment with the result, and some have questioned the team's preparation for the competition.

Finally, Athletico has defeated Sportivo Ameliano in the Sul-Americana, with two goals from Mastriani. The team's victory has generated excitement among its supporters, who see it as a good omen for the rest of the competition.
