Sportsbet is an online gambling company owned by Flutter Entertainment, primarily targeting the Australian market. Sportsbet is licensed as a corporate bookmaker in the Northern Territory under the Racing and Betting Act 1993 (NT).

Sportsbet is headquartered in Melbourne and seeks to operate within the boundaries set by multiple Australian regulatory authorities at a federal and state level. This regulation involves varying restrictions on products and promotional activities that can be offered by licensed corporate bookmakers in Australia.

The company was acquired by Paddy Power in December 2010, and since 2 February 2024, it has been owned by Flutter Entertainment.[2]

History [edit]

The

business name Sportsbet Australia was first registered in 1994, with domain name registered in 1999.

In May 2009, 51% was acquired by Paddy Power, who continued brand name and company operation as a separate entity, while offering additional services.[2]

The takeover allowed to acquire rival betting company International All Sports Limited, for 27.2 million euros.[3]

In March 2011, Paddy Power took full ownership of Sportsbet.[4][5]

Paddy Power and British rival Betfair agreed terms for a merger on 8

September 2024. The business is owned 52% by the former Paddy Power shareholders and 48% by the former Betfair shareholders.[6] The merger was completed on 2 February 2024.[7] On 5 April 2024, it was announced that 650 jobs in United Kingdom and Ireland would be lost at the company.[8]

On 6 March 2024, Paddy Power Bet Fair announced that it would rebrand as Flutter Entertainment, pending shareholder approval at the company's annual general meeting in May. Flutter was originally the name of a betting exchange acquired by Betfair in December 2001. The company stated that the rebrand, which took place on 28 May 2024, would not affect the company's individual customer facing gaming brands.[9]

In May 2024, the global merger between Flutter Entertainment and The Stars Group was finalized following regulatory and shareholder approvals. Sportsbet and BetEasy formed the Australian component of the merger.[10] Incumbent CEO of Sportsbet Barni Evans was appointed to lead the combined Sportsbet and BetEasy businesses, with a decision made to move forward with the sole Sportsbet brand, retiring the BetEasy brand following a period of migration and integration.

In November

2024, Sportsbet lost more than R$50 million due to the oddsmakers' mistake.

Markets [edit

Sport [edit]

Sportsbet has markets for 25 different sports: American football, Australian rules football, baseball, basketball, boxing, cricket, cycling, darts, e-sports, Gaelic football, golf, handball, ice hockey, motorsports, rugby league, rugby union, snooker, soccer, "sports novelties", table tennis, tennis, mixed martial arts (MMA), volleyball and water polo.[11]

Politics [edit]

Sportsbet has markets for elections in many countries.[12] These include federal, state and territory elections in Australia, federal elections in Canada, general elections in New Zealand and the United Kingdom, presidential elections in the United States. This includes markets such as "Democratic/Republican presidential nominee", "next Labor/Liberal leader", "next Conservative/Labour leader" and "year of the next Australian federal election". It has also included special markers such as "next NSW Liberal leader" for the 2024 NSW Liberal Party leadership election, "next Western Australian Premier" (following the resignation of Mark McGowan) and "next state/territory to elect a Liberal government" following the 2024 New South Wales state election, which saw the Labor Party hold power federally and in every mainland state or territory, leaving Tasmania as the only state with a Liberal government.

However, political odds on Sportsbet have faced controversy before.

Entertainment [edit

Sportsbet has markets for several television programs when they occur, including reality television programs and award shows amongst others.[15]

Controversies [edit

For the 2024 Australian federal election, Sportsbet tipped the Labor Party, led by Bill Shorten, to defeat the incumbent Coalition government, led by Scott Morrison. Sportsbet paid out all bets for Labor winning the election two days before the election, which was won by the Coalition and Morrison was re-elected Prime Minister.

Sportsbet lost over R$AUD5.2 million due to the early payout for an incorrect result.[16] Another mistake made was the option of punters betting on the Family First Party to win the 2024 election, which had a 1000/1 chance to win despite the party being dissolved in 2024.[17]

Desde la invasión de Ucrania por parte de Vladimir Putin, el oeste ha impuesto miles de sanciones a Rusia, convirtiéndola en el país más sancionado del mundo Desde el financiamiento de individuos hasta las principales industrias de su economía, las sanciones internacionales han apuntado a aislar a los consumidores rusos, con marcas importantes como Apple y McDonald's cesando sus operaciones en el país.

Sin embargo, dos años después, la economía rusa está mostrando una resistencia sorprendente y se prevé que crezca más rápido que la mayoría de las economías avanzadas del mundo, aunque los expertos dicen que es insostenible a largo plazo. Con los esfuerzos para restringir la economía rusa en el centro de atención, los EE. UU. dijeron el martes que anunciarían una serie de nuevas sanciones "impactantes" y controles de exportación en la cumbre del G7 en Italia esta semana.

"Vamos a seguir aumentando los costos para la máquina de guerra rusa", dijo el portavoz de la Casa Blanca, John Kirby.

Con informes de que el Departamento del Tesoro de EE. UU. apuntará a instituciones financieras que ayudan en la transferencia de importaciones relacionadas con la guerra, es probable que se enfoque la atención en los bancos en el club de países que no han impuesto sanciones y están facilitando el suministro de bienes y servicios a Rusia.

La economía rusa ha sido sostenida en parte por dichas importaciones.

Los datos internos de la agencia aduanera rusa muestran que las importaciones se están recuperando hasta cerca de sus niveles prepandémicos, según los investigadores, aunque a precios considerablemente más altos. Esos aumentos han ayudado a sostener industrias vulnerables, como la aviación y la industria automotriz.

Los observadores se han referido a esto como un "agujero de sanciones" donde artículos como semiconductores, piezas de aviones y iPhones pueden ser encaminados y reexportados a Rusia a través de empresas en China, Turquía o los EAU, o a través de Armenia, Kazajistán y otras ex repúblicas soviéticas.

Importaciones de tecnología sensible

Los datos muestran que estas importaciones incluyen artículos altamente examinados como microchips para su uso en el esfuerzo bélico ruso, entre ellos los fabricados por productores estadounidenses como Xilinx y Texas Instruments, o procesadores de Intel. La tecnología a menudo se compra por empresas en Hong Kong o China y se reexporta a Rusia.

"La invasión de Ucrania por parte de Rusia expuso una crisis de gobernanza en la UE. La UE se ha convertido en un facilitador de la guerra", dijo Robin Brooks, un destacado becario del Instituto Brookings durante un seminario web sobre eludir las sanciones rusas.

Brooks, quien ha estado rastreando la eficacia del control de exportaciones, señaló ejemplos como las exportaciones alemanas de vehículos y piezas en 2024 que fueron 5100% por encima de su nivel de 2024.

"No se trata de cohetes. Esto es obviamente para Rusia y lo ha estado haciendo durante más de dos años ahora. Solo hay silencio e indiferencia sobre estas exportaciones continuas en Alemania...", tuiteó Brooks.

Los datos de exportación muestran que esta tendencia está ocurriendo en "cada país europeo", dice Brooks.

"Roughly offset about half the drop in direct exports to Russia."

Estudios han revelado que el ejército ruso ha explotado estos agujeros para obtener tecnología militar occidental crítica. Según un informe de la Royal United Services Institute, think tank de defensa, más de 450 componentes extranjeros se han descubierto en armas rusas encontradas en Ucrania.

Los EE. UU. y la UE han intensificado recientemente sus esfuerzos contra las empresas y los bancos en países intermedios que comerci
