Poker players may be divided into different categories of playing styles.

The most prominent of these is undoubtedly the Tight-Aggressive Player 2 – or “TAG” for short.

In

this article, we'll examine:

Precisely what a tight-aggressive player is,

How you can spot them.

The starting hands 2 that he typically plays.

How he differs from a loose-aggressive player (LAG)

How you can exploit him.

Defining Tight-Aggressive

Simply

put, a tight-aggressive player 2 is one who tends to play very few starting hands. When he elects to play a hand, he generally plays 2 it aggressively. He does not like to call with his strong hands – but rather bets or raises to drive 2 out opponents or make them pay a steep cost to see future cards.

This style of play differs from that of 2 a “rock” or “nit”, who tends to play an even narrower range pre-flop (especially from late position), and who lacks 2 the aggression of a typical tight-aggressive player.

Identifying Tight-Aggressive Players

The simplest and most accurate method of identifying a tight-aggressive player is 2 to watch how many hands he plays and how aggressively he plays them. If, after a couple of orbits, an 2 opponent has played only 15-20% of hands, typically with a raise or 3-bet, you are almost surely dealing with a 2 tight-aggressive player.

You can confirm this diagnosis by making sure to observe any hands that are shown down or otherwise exposed. 2 If a large percentage of them are high-quality starting hands, you can conclude that your suspicions were correct.

You

may also 2 be able to accurately identify tight-aggressive opponents even without waiting for a full two orbits. There are other “secondary characteristics” 2 that typical tight-aggressive players display. They tend to keep their chips in even stacks of 20 – sometimes even with 2 the stripes on the side of the chips lined up.

Their physical betting of the chips is crisp and neat. They 2 are often very attentive, serious, and earnest in their demeanour. This is not to say that loose-aggressive players or other 2 types of players can't affect this behaviour as well. It's just that tight-aggressive players usually behave in this way most 2 of all.

Finally, be aware that the most skilled players may change their style (known as “changing gears”) just as you 2 think you have them figured out. So be ready to alter your assessment, even after you have confirmed it.

Tight-Aggressive Player's 2 Range

A tight-aggressive player's range will change depending on his position, of course. Specifically, a tight-aggressive player's range in early position 2 may be no broader than QQ+ (QQ, KK, AA) and AK. In middle-position, he may widen that range to include 2 TT+, ATs+, KQs, QJs, and JTs. In late position, he might broaden it further to include AT+, A2s+, KQs, KJs, 2 QJ, and all 22+.

Recognise

that there are all sorts of variations in the range any particular player may have – 2 including these tight-aggressive players. There are degrees of tightness and degrees of aggressiveness. Similarly, these ranges are not necessarily static 2 – as players may become tighter or looser as their mood, game conditions, and their opponents change.

They may have some 2 calling range – but it tends to be much narrower than a player who is not tight-aggressive. Typically, this TAG 2 player is raising with his entire range in early and middle position, and only calling in late position with his 2 pairs 22-88, and his suited aces A2-A9.

Tight-aggressive players are also ready to 3-bet in many situations when their hand strength 2 justifies it. So, for example, their 3-bet range would be likely to include KK, AA and maybe AK and QQ 2 from early position; JJ+ and AK from middle position, and TT, AK, and AJs+ from late position. Keep in mind 2 that individual TAGs may each play a broader or narrower range than these.

It's

important to realise that the TAG playing 2 style does not exclude the possibility of including a broader raising range, a broader 3-bet range, and even a reasonable 2 number of bluffing hands. Good tight-aggressive players may adjust their range to fit the general conditions of their table, their 2 own image, and their specific opponents – just as any good player would.

It's just that the range is generally tighter 2 than most of the other players at the table, and they tend to play their hands more aggressively than the 2 typical player.

Tight Aggressive (TAG) Vs Loose Aggressive (LAG)

loose-aggressive (LAG) player is much more likely to play a much broader 2 range than the tight-aggressive player and to play it aggressively. This strategy includes raising and 3-betting light. A tight-aggressive player 2 is much more likely to have higher standards than the LAG for raising and 3-betting.

One straightforward way of understanding this

2 is to look at the TAG player's range from late position. It includes many sub-premium hands like suited Aces and 2 other non-pair hands. The loose-aggressive player might play this range from any position pre-flop – and will play it for 2 a raise, or for a 3-bet.

Strengths and Weaknesses of Tight-Aggressive Play

There is nothing inherently strong or weak about the tight-aggressive 2 style of play – or any style of play for that matter. All methods of play may be used by 2 an expert to win money from the non-expert.

Weak players will lose no matter what style they adopt. In that 2 respect, no one style is clearly or definitely better than any other. Great players utilising a tight-aggressive style can win 2 a lot of money from mediocre opponents. But, so too can loose-aggressive players win a lot of money from mediocre 2 opponents.

Changing Gears

key is recognising the strengths and weakness of each style – changing gears (going from one form of 2 play to another) just as your opponents are figuring it out. Then, when they start to shift their play to 2 adjust for the type of player, they think you are, you should move on to a different style. When they 2 finally catch on to this switch, you switch again – ad infinitum until you have turned them in a quivering 2 mush of self-doubt. They end up leaving your table with their spirit and finances crushed.

They end up leaving 2 your table with their spirit and finances crushed. Predictability

Tight-aggressive play tends to be more predictable than loose-aggressive style – since 2 the narrower pre-flop range restricts the likely range as the hand develops. Since the TAG's starting range is much more 2 restricted, perceptive opponents will be better able to put a tight-aggressive player on a very narrow. This scenario is less 2 the case with a LAG. He starts with a much broader range. Therefore, it is often unclear whether a flop, 2 turn, or river helped his hand.

One advantage of a tight-aggressive player over a loose-aggressive player is that tight aggressive play is 2 less costly than loose-aggressive play, with lower variance. Since the TAG is playing many fewer hands than the LAG, he 2 is spending much less money on speculative hands. With fewer hands, in a stronger range than his LAG counterparts, he 2 will have less variance. Accordingly, he can fund his play with a smaller starting bankroll.

Aggressive Betting

Against inferior opponents, who do 2 not pay much attention to their opponents' style, and thereby fail to shift their play accordingly, the tight-aggressive style has 2 many advantages. This type of player will win money from his opponents when he aggressively bets his higher quality hands, 2 but will not lose or waste money by being aggressive on his lower-valued hands. He doesn't need to play as 2 wide a range because his weak opponents will not be observant enough or disciplined enough to avoid him when he 2 is selectively aggressive.

On the other hand, by being more predictable, his observant and skillful opponents will learn to avoid him 2 when he is aggressive, diminishing his likely wins when he does win. So, though his losses will likely be less, 2 so too will his potential wins.

Overall, whether the TAG does better than the LAG will be a function of how 2 good an overall player he is and how bad his opposition is. There is nothing inherent in the style of 2 play that dictates whether the TAG will win or lose more in the long run than the LAG.

Techniques for Exploiting

2 Tight-Aggressive Players

Once you have identified a tight-aggressive player, you will be able to attempt to exploit him. Your ability to 2 do so will depend, at least in part, on how good he is – and how capable he is to 2 adjust his play once he notices your attempts to exploit him.

But assuming he is no better than average, here are 2 some techniques that are likely to work:

Aggression = Strength

First, recognise that his aggression generally indicates true strength. So, when he 2 bets or raises, refuse to give him action unless you have a hand that is either already strong or has 2 good drawing potential. If he is extremely tight, you may do best by not playing against him at all.

He will 2 be in so few hands, that you needn't worry about your ability to make money off the other players at 2 your table. Just resolve to fold your hand on the rare occasion when he bets – and wait for the 2 next hand, which he is unlikely to enter because he doesn't have Aces or Kings.

Speculate Against the Sticky TAGs

Against other

2 tight-aggressive players, who have at least a reasonably broad range – especially from late position – you can use a 2 few “moves” against them to extract some profit. Realise that tight-aggressive players tend to continue to push their hands aggressively 2 through the flop and turn – even when others may improve.

Accordingly, with their rare AA, KK, or QQ from early 2 position, they will continue to bet it unimproved, in increasing amounts each bet – wanting to extract maximum profit from 2 the narrow range they play.

They aren't liable to return fire as a loose-aggressive player – since they play so few 2 hands. They tend to be quite “sticky” when they have one of their few playable hands – not wanting to 2 give. Against these tight-aggressive players, you can call their pre-flop raises with many speculative hands. If you miss, you'll fold 2 to their bet on the flop. But if you hit, you'll let them bet themselves into penury against your two 2 pair, sets, and flushes.

Position becomes extremely important, as you want to see his betting action before you enter a hand 2 against them. Their betting will be a window into the real strength of their hand, given their ABC-style of tight-aggressive 2 play.

You can play against them as if they are playing with their cards exposed.

Example of

Exploiting a Typical TAG

Here's 2 an example of how that exploitive play against a typical tight-aggressive player may work. (Bear in mind that I am 2 not recommending this against a solid player – but rather against an average, mediocre or worse tight-aggressive player.)

Pre-flop you are 2 in the cutoff seat in aR$1/2 game with aR$500 effective stack against the eventual Villain who is a typical, tight-aggressive 2 player.

UTG folds

UTG+1 callsR$2

UTG+2 folds

UTG+3 folds

Villain is in the lo-jack position. He raises toR$15.

Everyone folds to you. You have Qh Th.

If 2 he were an extremely tight TAG, you might just fold – figuring that you needn't bother fighting it out with 2 him. Folding is undoubtedly a reasonable and safe option against a particularly tight TAG. You'd remember the mantra "don't feed 2 the nit" and just wait for another hand.

But, assuming he's not quite as tight as all that, you can call 2 here – even though you know that you are far behind. You can call because R$15 is only 3% of your 2 stack – giving you enormous implied odds if you hit your hand of two pair, trips, a flush, or a 2 straight.

As a typical tight-aggressive player, he's likely to keep betting, in ever-increasing amounts. So, you call his bet on the 2 flop, and then either raise him on the turn or wait for him to donk off his chips to you 2 on the river.

Using
the Bluff, Selectively

The other move that may work against some of the better tight-aggressive players is to 2 selectively raise them on the flop as a bluff – to get them to release their hand, fearing that they 2 are now second best.

Being selective,
some good tight-aggressive players are still mindful of the possibility that the flop may occasionally 2 give their opponent a very strong hand – surpassing their likely premium pair.

If, for example, they raise pre-flop, and you 2 call, and then an Ace flops. They bet, and you uncharacteristically raise, they may figure that since this so seldom 2 happens to them, they are better off not chancing that you hit Aces-Up or, worse, a set. They are then 2 likely to fold, congratulating themselves at their excellent laydown (they may even show it to you).

Sometimes they will call your 2 raise on the flop, hoping for a perfect turn, and you have to fire another bet on the turn for 2 them to fold. Again, used very selectively, this is often an effective move against the reasonably good (but not great) 2 tight-aggressive opponent.

Comparing
Tight-Aggressive Player (TAG) to Loose-Aggressive Player (LAG)

In Conclusion

Poker

games are populated by all sorts of players with many 2 different playing styles. You will want to be able to identify just what type of player you're up against, so 2 you can apply the correct tactics to exploit them.

Fortunately, tight-aggressive players are relatively easy to spot. If they are very 2 skilled, you should avoid them altogether. If not, you can make money off them by applying some of the tactics 2 we've explored in this article.
