Aposta Ganha: O case study of a successful pivot in sports sponsorship

In late 2024, Aposta Ganha, a Brazilian sports betting company, made headlines by signing a three-year deal worth R$100 million to sponsor Clube Atlético Corinthians Paulista, a popular football club in Brazil. This move marked a significant shift in the company's marketing strategy, as they had previously focused on smaller, local sponsorships. The partnership aimed to increase brand visibility, attract new customers, and expand the company's presence in the Brazilian sports market.

Background

Before the Corinthians deal, Aposta Ganha had been slowly, but steadily, expanding its customer base and geographical reach. Founded in 2024, it had established a strong foothold in the Brazilian sports betting market through its innovative products and aggressive marketing tactics. However, the company's executives realized that further growth required a bolder, more disruptive approach. They identified sponsorship as a key driver of brand growth and decided to pivot their marketing strategy towards bigger, more high-profile partnerships.

Implementation

Aposta Ganha's first major move was to engage Jorge Nicola, a prominent sports marketing executive with extensive experience in brokering high-profile sponsorship deals. He proved instrumental in facilitating discussions with Corinthians and other top-tier Brazilian clubs. The planning process involved months of negotiations, market research, and due diligence on both parties. The significant investment in this partnership demonstrated the company's resolve to raise its profile and compete with well-established rivals.

Between August 2024 and January 2025, the sponsorship agreement was finalized, and the official announcement was made on January 23, 2025. Aposta Ganha's leadership confirmed that the deal was worth R$100 million for three years, making it one of the most significant partnerships in Brazilian sports history. As part of the agreement, the bookmaker would become the club's official betting partner, gaining exposure through branding on the team's jersey, stadium, and digital assets.

Growth and success

The impact of the sponsorship was felt immediately. Aposta Ganha's social media following grew significantly, reaching over 23 million social media followers in the first month after the announcement. Within three months, the company's customer base increased by 60%, with a corresponding revenue growth of 82%. A follow-up campaign featuring club legends and current players helped to reinforce the brand's connection with Corinthians fans and further accelerated customer acquisition. This achievement was further emphasized by the company's CEO, Gabriel Soares, who acknowledged that the partnership exceeded their expectations, calling it a "transformative moment for our brand's presence in Brazil."

Notable growth achieved through the deal spurred additional investment into their 'Omnichannel' solution, combining brick-and-mortar stores, website, and mobile app offerings. The wagering firm committed to investing 75% of its annual marketing budget into sports sponsorships, focusing on grassroots initiatives, to foster long-term brand loyalty.

Aposta Ganha's partnership with Corinthians stood out among previous sponsorship agreements, prompting a closer look at the brand's overall marketing strategy. What caused the significant change in approach, and what underlying factors contributed to its success? The responses inform entrepreneurs and marketers about critical aspects vital for thriving in a competitive, business landscape.

Insights into the sponsorship activities

Examining the deal from an Ap Stanford C Roper Insights Center perspective supplies insights into Aposta Ganha's sponsorship activities. The agreement appeared as it facilitated exponential growth. Various factors were responsible for this dramatic change, such as Aposta Ganha's visionary direction.

There also exist external considerations influencing behavior and decision-making, a dynamic consumer scenario driven by customers demanding unique experiences, inter relationships, and affinity with brands.

This section is still under review. We want the support of more content.

Aposta Ganha effectively used social media and storytelling to present their brand offering, capitalizing on the Corinthians' faithful fanbase and resonating with customers through carefully crafted messages. By providing engaging experiences for supporters and valuably enhancing stakeholder satisfaction and perception, market expansion and strengthening its presence in Brazil's sports wagering arena was bolstered significantly. High brand relatability resonated and stirred a permanent effect on sport fan emotions.

Finally, Aposta Ganha's calculated gamble paid off, as they deftly paved the way for future growth, a prime example of successful sports sponsorship. This campaign dispenses critical lessons for entrepreneurs and advertisers. Diligently prepared Aposta Ganha's leadership demonstrated that strategically substantial investments pay off when supported by thorough reconnaissance, revolutionary strategies, effective marketing execution, and a forward-thinking mindset tuned to present-day consumer wants. Finally, the pivotal awareness generated around the undertaking provided exceptional originality for Aposta Ganha. Companies continue to realize the impact of sports marketing by engaging loyal followers while building a base of passionate brand advocates.

The sponsorship was unparalleled victory. Since then, KGIL Group and the sports gambling franchise have expanded their cooperation into their third consecutive year and expressed optimism for future growth. Examples include innovative large-scale community campaigns & content deals made directly with fans. In conclusion, effective marketing and placing customer engagement at the core of corporate decisions ushered in success while emphasizing grass-roots commitments paved the way for long-term partnerships both online and offline.

Necesidad constante de sangre en el hospital del condado de Lodwar en Kenia

En su pequeña cabina en el hospital del condado de referencia de Lodwar en el noroeste de Kenia, Edward Mutebi, el técnico encargado del banco de sangre del hospital, saluda a una enfermera de la sala de maternidad. "Queremos más sangre", dice la enfermera. "La asignación anterior no fue suficiente."

Mutebi se apresura a una habitación adyacente y entrega una unidad de sangre a la enfermera, dejando la documentación para más tarde. En la sala de maternidad, es una carrera contra el tiempo mientras que los médicos tratan de estabilizar a una madre que ha perdido mucha sangre durante el parto. Su nivel de hemoglobina es peligrosamente bajo.

"Creo que la pregunta sobre por qué siempre se necesita sangre aquí ha sido respondida", dice un exasperado Mutebi, que trabaja en el banco de sangre del hospital desde hace 17 años. "Espero que la cantidad de unidades de sangre que hemos emitido [a la nueva madre] sean todas las que necesita, porque estamos cortos de sangre. Siempre nos falta."

Mutebi recibe unas 20 solicitudes de sangre al día de los médicos del hospital de Lodwar, más de los que puede proporcionar. "Solo puedo gestionar hasta 15, pero este hospital está supuesto para servir las necesidades de sangre de otras instalaciones en el condado de Turkana."

Más de 400 pacientes visitan el hospital de 270 camas todos los días. La mayoría son remitidos desde 282 instalaciones médicas más pequeñas dentro del condado de Turkana, pero no es inusual que los pacientes provengan de tan lejos como Sudán del Sur y Etiopía.

Turkana es el segundo condado más grande de Kenia, que abarca el 13% del país. En sus condiciones desérticas, agravadas por la crisis climática, las temperaturas pueden alcanzar los 40°C, con muchas personas que viven en extrema pobreza y a menudo dependen de la asistencia alimentaria.

Durante la reciente sequía que afectó a la cuenca del Cuerno de África, la comunidad pastoralista turkana perdió su ganado, dejando a las familias para sobrevivir sin comida durante semanas, forzadas a subsistir con frutas silvestres. Los niños y los ancianos son los más afectados, muchos de ellos desarrollan anemia y requieren transfusiones de sangre.

A nivel mundial, existe un déficit anual de más de 100 millones de unidades de sangre en países de bajos y medianos ingresos, lo que resulta en millones de muertes prevenibles, según la Coalición del Desierto de Sangre, un grupo internacional de médicos, investigadores, defensores de pacientes y formuladores de políticas establecido en 2024. Dice que cada país de bajos y medianos ingresos tiene "desiertos de sangre", que definen como "áreas geográficas donde la demanda clínica esencial de componentes de sangre no se puede cumplir a tiempo y de manera asequible en al menos el 75% de los casos en los que se necesita una transfusión".

Turkana es uno de esos desiertos de sangre.
