How to Download the Cyber.bet App for Android?

Mobile gambling is a convenient way for bettors to wager on online sportsbooks. While some bookies make their website compatible with mobile devices, some offer official downloads of an Android app or iOS app. Either way, it is a convenient way of accessing the functions of the sportsbook's site in the palm of your hand.

In this Cyber.bet app review, we're taking a detailed look at whether there is any free app download for Android and iOS, and how well the mobile version of the site runs.

Fortunately, you will be able to download the APK for Cyber.bet. The operator does provide an Android mobile app for its sportsbook site. This is fortunate since esports gamblers would enjoy wagering on their favourite games from an app.

We investigated whether Cyber.bet offered any official download of an Android app with an APK file on its website. It is evident the operator advertises the app on its official site. Therefore, punters eager to bet on Cyber.bet's esports games will need to follow the steps below to get the APK file on their smart devices.

Run the official site cyber.bet to get the legit APK file. You will find the bookie suggesting you get the app to your Android device. Before you download the app, though, you must configure your phone. Select Settings then Security and Unknown sources to allow the smooth download of the APK file. Download Cyber.bet app for Android

How to Install the Android Cyber.bet App?

The process of installation is quite straightforward. Once you get the apk file follow the instructions listed below.

Go to your notification center. Tap on the APK file to start the installation. Wait for the app to appear on your screen. Reverse the setting of your phone to normal. Go to Cyber.bet login page and start playing.

Cyber.bet app download for iPhone and iPad – is it possible?

In the case of Apple phones, Cyber.bet offers no official download of an iOS app, whether in the App Store or on its website. We believe that the operator could benefit from adding this app features in the future as well. iPhone app integration holds the possibility of special features that could enhance the functionality of the site.

For now, you can only access the sportsbook on PC or through the mobile version of the site for your iOS devices.

Is Cyber.bet Mobile App Free?

Usually, when a sportsbook offers an app for its betting site, it's generally available in the form of a free app download for Android or iOS. For now Cyber.bet does provide an app, but only in the form of an APK file. It is available for free to download from the official site. However, while there is currently no iOS app available, you can still access the bookie's website from your mobile iPhone device for free.

Cyber.bet Mobile Version

There is a mobile version of the website available. However, it's worth noting that there are two different versions available on mobile. For the purposes of this app review, we're taking a look at both of them.

Firstly, there is a mobile compatible version. This is the version that you'll access when you first enter the mobile login page from your phone's browser. The mobile esports betting markets and live competitions welcome you on the home screen and you can view only some of the site's features.

If you enjoy punting on in-play markets while watching a live broadcast, then this is where the mobile version fails to deliver. Fortunately, if you scroll to the bottom of the screen, you can switch to the full version on your phone. This gives you access to the full functionality of the bookie's site on your phone.

The full version is completely compatible with smartphones. You can also watch mobile live streams of live games played online through Cyber.bet's Twitch broadcast. The news and blog pages are also available for you to read through for the latest tips and esports betting strategies.

Benefits of Cyber.bet Mobile

If you're used to placing punts from the comfort of the Windows browser, don't worry. We've performed an app review of the benefits of betting on Cyber.bet's mobile app and site to allay any fears that you might have. Here are our top benefits for using the mobile version of the bookie's website:

Benefits: Instant mobile login

Easy access to mobile esports and football events

Same site functionality and design

The convenience of betting wherever you are

Watch mobile live streams for in-play markets

No need to download an iOS or Android app

App Features

For that moment, there is only one special Cyber.bet mobile app for Android. We've already mentioned that some of Cyber.bet's sportsbook functionality is available on the mobile app version. Reviewing these features would thus be beneficial for the punter to understand which are available and what they consist of.

In-play Betting In-play Betting Cyber.bet offers its members an opportunity to wager on in-play markets. When you visit the mobile login page, live esports markets are immediately visible. You'll also see how the odds and scores change as the event unfolds. There are also some special in-play markets available. While we performed our app review, we saw some unique markets available, such as over/under bets for how much ammo is spent by players during a Call of Duty match. Other in-play markets you can wager on include map wins, team wins in a number of rounds as well as which team will obtain the first kill.

Cash Out Feature Cash Out Feature Cyber.bet doesn't provide a cash-out feature. It means that you can't pull out of a punt you made if you see odds shifting against your wager. So, make your bets carefully; once you place it, you can't back out.

Live Streaming Live Streaming We're rather impressed with Cyber.bet's live streaming offer. It's one of the best features of the site. With app reviews in the past, we've generally struggled to find online bookies that offer this depth of functionality when it comes to the mobile live stream. You must open the full version of the site on your phone to see the live broadcast. Once you do, you'll be treated to Cyber.bet's Twitch channel on the mobile login page. Any broadcasts from the Twitch channel, specifically for in-play markets, will play when you click on the live feed button.

Push Notifications Push Notifications The world is constantly on the move. So it makes sense that if you chose to bet on Cyber.bet then they may have figured out a way to keep you informed of what is going on with your bets. Thanks to push notifications this is now possible!

List of Cyber.bet Mobile Services

It is true that Cyber.bet is a bookie with the main focus on only sportsbook offerings, but you will also find a variety of casino slots and table games. Even with its sportsbook section, there are only two types of sports available. Let's briefly take a look at these sections in our Cyber.bet app review.

Esports betting on Android or iOS

The predominant sport you can bet on is esports. It specifically features esports in its sportsbook markets. The bookie complements its mobile esports section with a blog where you can read all the latest betting tips and updates on the sport.

It's not only on PC, Windows or Mac, that you can access the esports markets. All esports games and events are available on your smartphone too. You can punt on live and upcoming matches or tournaments from the comfort of your device. Just remember to open the full version if you want to watch the mobile live stream.

Football betting on iOS and Android

Surprisingly, Cyber.bet offers football markets to bet on. However, if you compare the football section with the mobile esports segment, it feels like it was added as an afterthought or simply to broaden its betting categories. Either way, you can wager on football matches from all over the world.

Casino & Live Casino for Android and iOS

Cyber.bet has now a casino section that is full of quality games. From classic slots to exclusive branded titles, you will have it all. The casino games also feature live dealers, table games, bingo and much more.

Cyber.bet mobile version pros and cons

Should you stick to the Windows browser, or should you try out the Cyber.bet mobile version?

Here's a list of the pros and cons so you can decide for yourself:

Pros:

Quick download

Takes up little phone storage

Mobile live stream on the login page

Push notifications in place

Blog with the latest tips and updates

Accessible on Android and iOS

Mobile login not required to view betting markets

Cons:

Lags when mobile browser lags

Poor connection can affect mobile live stream

System Requirements and Compatibility

There is an official download of free app for Android, but not for iOS apps, we will cover the specifics for the mobile devices compatible with the app. For now, though, you should know that your phone needs to have Android 9.2 or higher to acquire the app.

For you to enjoy punting on your smartphone, you simply need the latest HTML software for your mobile browser. Ensure that you keep it updated, as outdated software may cause issues when trying to connect to Cyber.bet or watching the mobile live stream.

Mobile Bonuses

Cyber.bet offers a welcome bonus for any new members that sign up. You can use the app to register, apply WELCOME100 for sports or GETMAX20 for casino as your promo codes and still claim an exclusive bonus.

However, even though there is no specific app bonus available, all other promotions are up for grabs. In other words, the sportsbook bonus is available to both PC and mobile users. Perhaps one day if Cyber.bet launches an official mobile app for iOS, it will offer punters a specific app bonus for downloading and using that app.

For now, there is no app bonus available specifically catering to mobile users.

Mobile Payment Methods

It doesn't matter which version you're using, payment methods are the same for both Windows and mobile users. While we recommend using the PC for financial transactions, you can make deposits and withdrawals on your smartphone.

It is worth noting that both withdrawal and deposit waiting periods follow a reconciliation and approval period. Here are the details:

Conclusion and Apps' Rating

While Cyber.bet may not offer an official download for any iOS apps, it still has an Android app. Therefore, we've specifically focused our app review on the Android app and the mobile version of the bookie's website. One positive aspect includes having both mobile and full versions available for your smartphone, both of which work generally well. Additionally, the mobile live stream on the login page is a very welcome feature.

Overall, we're happy in providing a high rating in our Cyber.bet app review.
