Asia-Pacific is the fastest-growing gambling market worldwide, with an estimated CAGR of 3 11.72% from 2024-2032.

The population, technological advancements, and eSports popularity drive its industry market.

Countries with legalized gambling make huge profits, and 3 offshore casinos are popular in countries where gambling is illegal.

Let's take a closer look at the gambling legislation in the 3 major countries in the Asia-Pacific.

Australia

(Atlantic Salmon Restoration, The Law Reviews, ABC Net)

The 2001 Interactive Gambling Act allows sports betting in 3 Australia, except for live in-play betting. No general law regulates gambling activities, as it varies from state to state.

However, two laws that apply to all states include the minimum age requirement to gamble at 18, and the betting operator must obtain reasonable proof of identity from its customers.

Australia allows sports betting companies to operate under a license. Almost all states and territories, except Western Australia, have privatized all leading gambling operators.

Here is a list of legitimate sports betting sites in Australia:

Ladbrokes – Horse racing

Boombet –

Casino/bookmakers

Dabble – Racing and bookmakers

Neds – Racing

China

(casino)

China was a gambling haven, but this isn't the case anymore due to political upheaval. While sports betting is illegal in Mainland, it is fully legal and regulated in Hong Kong and Macau.

Although the Chinese government has blocked some sites, bettors can still access foreign online sportsbooks to bet on the country's most popular sports:

Table Tennis

Badminton

Basketball

Soccer

This

unregulated gambling activity has doubled the annual income of China's officially sanctioned lotteries, generating one trillion yuan ($145 billion) from online gambling.

Hong Kong

(SBO, Government Information Center)

The Gambling Ordinance (Cap.

148) 1977 regulates gambling and authorizes Hong Kong Jockey Club (HKJC) as the only legal sports betting operator.

HKJC started as a racing bookmaker and expanded to football and basketball betting. In 2002, they banned international bookmakers and sanctioned residents aged 18+ from betting with them.

With an all-time high revenue of HK$290 billion (US$36.9 billion) in 2023-2024, be guided with the duty rates for the following betting activities:

Macau

(Asia Gaming Brief, The Law Reviews, Statista)

Macau is known as the world's betting capital, allowing bets on football, basketball, and horse racing. Casino betting is only authorized in the region but not online gambling.

The Gaming Inspection

and Coordination Bureau regulates casinos and gambling. The law defines the region as a continuous gaming zone, meaning businesses run 24/7 for 365 days.

Any closure of an establishment or halting of activity can only be done under exceptional circumstances.

There are four types of permitted gaming in Macau, namely:

Games of chance

Horse

racing

Lotteries, 2 raffles, tombola, and sweepstakes

Interactive gaming

With a special gaming tax of 35% of gross gaming revenue, Macau generated R$3.2 billion in 2024 from gaming and gambling businesses.

India

(Legal Service India)

The 1867 Public Gambling

Act and the 2000 Technology Act prohibit all gambling forms in India except for horse races. However, individual states can set their rules and regulations.

Sports betting

is legal in the following Indian states:

Sikkim

Goa

Dadra and Nagar Haveli

Daman and

Diu

Sports betting legalization is determined if it is a game of luck or skill. While land-based sportsbooks are unavailable, there are casinos in certain states.

Regulated

horse races betting is taxed at 28% on the betting handle. In 2024, India's betting industry's worth over R$2 billion.

New Zealand

(DIA, New Zealand Police, casino)

The

Gambling Act 2003 regulates gambling in New Zealand. While domestic online gambling is illegal, they can bet on foreign online sites. Certain gambling forms are prohibited under:

Remote Interactive Gambling

Advertising Overseas Gambling

Excerpts of the Gambling Act 2003

Prizes (firearms, tobacco, and alcohol)

Sports betting for rugby, cricket, football, basketball, horse racing, and eSports is only allowed through TAB, an organization set up by the government for 18 and above.

Philippines

(Legal Sports Betting, Philippine Times)

The Philippine Amusement

and Gaming Corporation (PAGCOR) and First Cagayan Resort and Leisure Corporation oversee all gambling activity in the country.

The Games and Amusement Board controls betting on basketball, soccer, boxing, baseball, and cockfighting. The Philippine Racing Commission controls horse races.

Residents can bet at Philippine legal online and offshore sportsbooks like MegaSportsWorld. It has over 100 locations and is limited to players aged 21 and up.

The following types of bets are allowed for ages 18 and above:

Pari-mutuel betting

Off-track betting

On-track betting

In 2024, PAGCOR paid P5.2

billion for franchise tax and its licenses/proponents. Philippine gambling revenue surged by 80% to P70 billion.

South Korea

(Statista, SBO)

Lottery, horse, boat, and bicycle racing were the only allowed bets in Korea. But in 1997, Korea started Sports

Toto to offer bets on Korean sports in fixed and running odds formats.

Koreans aged 19

and above can bet on:

Football

Baseball

Basketball

Volleyball

Golf

The government keeps a percentage of the funds collected and divides the rest among winners.

The National

Sports Promotion Act governs the country's sports betting. On-site betting is only allowed at Korea Sports Foundation facilities, while online is available to local and international.

The country's highest recorded sports betting revenue was in 2024, amounting to 5.6 trillion. General corporate income tax applies to sports betting operators.

Taiwan

(Taiwan Lottery, Taipei Times)

Article 326 of the Criminal Code prohibits gambling, except Taiwan Lottery Co., Ltd. It is under the Uniform Invoice Lottery recognized by the Ministry of Finance.

The temporary amusement clause allows citizens to play non-currency games and mahjong during Chinese New Year. Illegal gambling is fined up to NT$50,000 ($1,800).

In 2009, the Offshore Islands Development

Act legalized establishing casinos in Kinmen, Matsu, and Penghu, given that over 50% of residents agreed in a referendum.

For every NT$100 bet, NT$10 would directly go to the National Sports Development Fund. Here is Taiwan's current revenue from sports lotteries:

2024: NT$40.3 billion (US$1.42 billion)

2023: NT$46.6 billion (US$1.67 billion)

Diving into Europe's Adaptability on Sports Betting

European countries are autonomous in gambling services. Most EU countries allow some games of chance online, some allow all games, and others allow a certain type.

The UK, Germany, and Spain are among the 3 major gambling hotspots in Europe. In 2024, sports betting generated €13.6 billion, accounting for 35% of Europe's online gambling revenue.

Let's discover more countries earning from legalized sports betting.

France

(The Law Reviews, Thomson

Reuters)

As a Christian-Catholic country, gambling in France has long been prohibited under Article L.320-1, Homeland Security Code.

The country slowly allowed betting on certain sports, competitions, and types of results determined by ANJ.

Decree 85-390:

Française des Jeux operates sports betting.

Decree 97-456: Pari-Mutuel Urbain monitors horse racing companies and betting.

Decree 2010-483: Online sports betting was regulated.

Quick Tip ANJ oversees 14 licensed gambling businesses in France, covering 78% of the regulated French gambling market.

France's Pacte Reform states that sports betting taxation is based on gross gaming revenue, and the tax rates changed as follows:

Sports betting: 5.7% of wagers

Social security : 1.8% of wagers

National

Centre for Sports: 1.8% of wagers

Germany

(SBC News, The Law Reviews, Thomson

Reuters)

75% of Germans have gambled at least once, and 15% are betting daily. The Interstate Treaty on Gambling (ISTG) governs land-based and online gambling, adopted by 16 states.

ISTG provides the licensing through the Gambling Committee. In 2024, issuance 3 limitations changed from a maximum of 20 to unlimited in some parts of Germany.

The Administrative Court of Darmstadt ordered to 3 stop the issuance until a transparent and non-discriminatory process was observed, following the failed 2012 and 2024 processes.

Land-based or online 3 operators have a 5% federal tax.

Iceland
(SBO)

With 70% of adult Icelanders enjoying sports betting worldwide, take a look at the key 3 gambling laws in the country:

1972 Expansion of Legal Lotteries – allowed pool-based sports lotteries

1986 First State Lottery – established state-run 3 online sports betting

Updated Criminal Code of 2024 – prohibits professional gamblers

No laws that prohibit betting on international sites and all 3 gambling winnings are not taxed. Foreign operators can get licenses elsewhere without a licensing framework in Iceland.

Italy

(Lawyers Italy, Raise the 3 Age Mi)

Gambling laws in Italy are more flexible.

In 2006, authorized companies could provide land-based or online options. The Autonomous Administration 3 of State Monopolies (AAMS) regulates gambling in the country.

The Abruzzo Decree 2009 allowed online sports betting, where the AAMS granted 3 160 licenses. Gamblers can avail of various offshore options, complying with the 2011 Comunitaria degree requirement.

Sports betting operators' tax is 3 4.5% of their gross gaming revenue. Gambling is one of the industries bringing approximately 80 billion euros annually to the 3 Italian economy.

Russia

(e-sportsbetting)

Some of Europe's biggest football clubs reside in Russia, making it a major draw for sports betting. However, gambling 3 laws in Europe have been changing over the years, as shown below:

1928-1989: gambling and betting were illegal

1989: all gambling and 3 betting became legal

2006: all online gambling and betting were illegal

2009: offline betting

was restricted to unaccredited betting companies

Sports betting was 3 only allowed at bookmakers and casinos in Kaliningrad Oblast, Krasnodar Krai, Altai Krai, and Primorsky Krai.

In 2024, Russia legislated that 3 wagers can bet on international online sportsbooks if the sports matches are affiliated with the country. The law requires all 3 bettors to be at least 18 years old.

Spain

(The Law Reviews, SBO, ICLG, SBC News)

Betting in Spain was initially unregulated and 3 open. As legal betting shops started to operate in Madrid in 2008, the government felt the need to regulate the 3 activity.

Land-based and online sports betting are permitted for 18 and above under the Spanish Gambling Act 2011. The Dirección General 3 de Ordenación del Juego regulates licenses.

Spain's 17 autonomous regions regulate gambling within their jurisdiction.

While foreign licensed operators are prohibited 3 in the country, they can operate by securing a Spanish license.

Sports betting operators pay a variable tax on gross gaming 3 revenue. Bettors' tax is based on a four-tier framework.

19% on winnings up to €12,450

24% on €12,450 – €20,200

30% on €20,200 3 to €35,200

Sports Betting in the Middle East at 3 a Glance

Most Arab countries restrict gambling, but laws vary from each country. While Morocco and Lebanon have legalized gambling, it 3 is still frowned upon in Saudi Arabia, Qatar, and Kuwait.

However, the high sporting events in the region have increased sports 3 betting. The market has a 12.1% projected CAGR from 2024-2026, with Saudi Arabia and the UAE leading the industry.

With 60% 3 of the region's population considering themselves gambling enthusiasts, the Middle East is a significant market for core and casual gamblers. 3 Know more about gambling laws below.

Israel

(The Jerusalem Post, Thomson Reuters, The Law Reviews)

Lottery and sports betting are Israel's only legal 3 gambling forms operating land-based. The Israeli government only allowed online gambling on the websites of these two.

The Penal Law 5727-1967 3 established the Israel

Sports Betting Board (ISBB). This statutory body is a state-owned entity with a monopoly on sports betting in Israel.

ISBB enacted various secondary regulations, including:

Passing of regulations for the soccer betting program (1978)

Passing of regulations for the basketball betting program (1996)

Expanding to include local and foreign sporting activities (2011)

Since the state runs gambling, tax is based on gambling winnings.

The Turning Point of Sports Betting in North America

Most of North America, except Las Vegas and Atlantic City, was a gambling-free zone. The region's online sports betting market has a projected market volume of $9.55 billion in 2024.

With 15.3 million 12-17-year-olds gambling in the United States and Canada, let's look closely at the legality of sports betting in these countries.

Canada

(World Sports Network, Atlantic Salmon Restoration)

Sports betting in Canada has been legal since 1985. Almost all of Canada's projected sports betting worth $14.5 billion went to offshore sites, leading to a push for online regulations.

With millions of Canadians betting online and offshore, the industry's projected revenue by 2027 is $3.3 billion.

The passing of Bill C-218 in 2024, which legalized single-game betting in Canada, has pushed many provinces to incorporate it into their existing framework.

While Ontario opened the door to international markets, all provinces allow sports betting except Quebec. The legal gambling age in Canada depends on the area, but mostly 18 or 19.

United States

(Washington Post, Globe Newswire, Forbes)

Gambling legality is increasing more in US states. But in 2024, the Supreme Court repealed the 1992 PASPA Act, placing the responsibility of creating gambling laws on individual states.

Here's a guide on where bettors at least 21 can place a legal bet in the US.

Both In-Person and Online In-Person Only Online Only

Arizona Arkansas Colorado Connecticut District of Columbia Illinois Indiana Iowa Kansas Louisiana Massachusetts Michigan Nevada New Hampshire New Jersey New York Ohio Oregon Pennsylvania Rhode Island Virginia West Virginia Delaware Maryland Mississippi Montana New Mexico North Carolina North Dakota South Dakota Washington Wisconsin Tennessee Wyoming

While sports betting tax varies from state to state, many have jumped into this lucrative opportunity. The sports betting industry in the US generated $7.56 billion in 2024.

Tracing the Sports Betting Laws in South/Latin America

Gambling thrives in Latin America, especially with the rising income levels, internet penetration, and online gambling sites. The industry is projected to grow by 18.4% from 2024-2028.

Each

country's different sports betting legislation reflects the region's diversity. Costa Rica, Colombia, and Panama allow foreign licensed operators. Uruguay and Chile only allow state lotteries.

Despite the differences, the market's GGR will most likely triple from 2024-2025, reaching R$3 billion. Let's explore the betting laws in some Latin American countries.

Argentina

(Online Casino Rank)

Argentina regulates sports betting city-by-city through the Lottery of the City of Buenos Aires. Some cities offer regulated sports betting to all residents and tourists at least 18 or older.

With R$13.5

million in wagers, soccer leads Argentina's sports betting market. Bets are also placed on basketball, boxing, swimming, tennis, and car and horse racing.

Of the 25% tax on all sports betting revenue, operators owed the Argentinian government the following:

15% for general income tax

8% on whatever activity generated the revenue

for licensing fee

Municipalities hosting the sportsbooks collect 10% of licensing fees.

While operators can get unlimited licenses, they must comply with a minimum of 20 licensing requirements.

Brazil

(The Law Reviews)

With Brazil's unregulated sports betting, many offshore sportsbooks operated in the region without paying anything.

Because of this, lawmakers pushed to legalize sports betting in 2024.

In 2024, Law

13,756/18 authorized the Ministry of Finance in Brazil to regulate sports betting. The 50 maximum number of licenses to be issued was reduced due to the long process.

Sports

betting taxes have changed from 6% on retail and 8% online to 17% on GGR. Operators must also pay a R$700,000 initial fee with R$7,400 monthly fees for online operators.

With a combined population of over 18.8 million, São Paulo and Rio de Janeiro are Brazil's two largest betting markets, with football as the most bet-on sport.

Colombia

(PwC, The Jerusalem Post)

In 1991, all games of chance were under

Colombia's monopoly, and the revenue was used for social purposes.

Law 643a of 2001

legalized gambling in the country. In 2024, the Colombian government enacted the eGaming Act, legalizing online sports betting.

As Coljuegos regulates gambling in Colombia, no laws prohibit gamblers from using offshore sportsbooks. The government doesn't also collect tax on online sports betting winnings.

Despite Colombia's online gambling market's 63% growth in 2024, all eligible operators must pay their taxes and 3 fees, as shown below:

GGR: 15% (online and offline)

Regulatory body:

1%

License: R$200,000 yearly

Costa Rica

(casino)

Land-based sports betting in Costa Rica is illegal, but 3 online is among the most welcoming worldwide. Soccer, baseball, and American football are the most popular for 18 and above.

While 3 Costa Ricans can bet online and offshore, foreign operators can easily offer services. Junta de Protección de Social has overseen 3 online gambling since 2009.

Here are the requirements for securing a gambling license in Costa Rica:

Must be a Costa Rican corporation

Registration 3 with the local tax authorities

A commercial license obtained from the local government authorities

Costa Rican operators aren't taxed on income earned 3 overseas since operators can only accept players from abroad.

Mexico

(Thomson

Reuters)

Mexico legalized sports betting in 2004 when lawmakers saw its growing

3 popularity. Article 3 of the Gaming Law authorizes the Ministry of the Interior to oversee sports betting.

Mexico City is the 3 country's most popular legal sports betting destination among the 17 cities. People loved to bet on soccer, with the World 3 Cup being the most bet-on event.

Tourists can participate in in-person wagering and Mexican-based online sportsbooks. Land-based or online operators are 3 subject to a 30% GGR tax at the federal level.

Sports betting in Mexico generated R$300 million in annual tax revenue, which 3 the country did not gain from sports betting before 2004.

Peru

(Casino, Deloitte)

While legal land-based sports betting existed for over 25 years, 3 its online counterpart was recently legalized in 2024.

In Peru, a private company called Intralot regulates and provides sports betting licenses. 3 Many online offshore sportsbooks can operate in Peru as there is no limit to getting licenses.

The

sports betting monthly tax 3 rate is 12%, which the Ministry of Foreign Trade and Tourism regulates. The funds will be divided among the following:

40% 3 for the public treasury

20% for the Sports Institute in Peru

40% for Foreign Trade and

Tourism

Peruvian bettors aged 18+ mostly bet on soccer, baseball, and basketball.

Puerto Rico (bookies)

As a US territory, any changes to gambling legislation in Puerto Rico are subject to US federal law. Here, we look at the timeline of sports betting legalization in the country.

2024: Sports betting paved the way after the PASPA Act was repealed

2024: House Resolution 2038 was passed, allowing retail and online betting

2024 : Senate Bill 1534 was passed, enabling the Puerto Rico Gambling Commission to regulate sports betting

2024: BetMGM opened the first retail sportsbook

Puerto Rico has one of the lowest tax rates, with 7% for retail and 12% for online sportsbooks. Of the $87 million projected revenue in the first five years, 50% will go to retired public workers.

Broadening the Horizons for Sports Betting

The

history of sports betting is evolving. While most countries and states worldwide have established legal sports betting, some are still waiting for their chance to legalize or launch.

Since 2024, legal sports betting in the US has expanded. New York, Louisiana, Kansas, Ontario, and Maryland launched in 2024, and Ohio and Massachusetts in 2024.

Below, we'll find which jurisdictions are the next legal destination for sports bettors.

Minnesota

(Media Troopers, USA Today, LSR)

While sports betting in Minnesota is illegal, there have been initiatives to legalize it.

2024: HF 2000, a tribal-exclusive sports betting bill, passed the House but not in the Senate.

(Proponent: Democrat-Farmer-Labor Rep. Zack Stephenson)

2024: The bill will be included on the 2024 ballot. (Proponent: Republican state Rep. Greg Stemen)

Tribes, lawmakers, and pro sports franchises have supported the bill. However, it also faced opposition from the education, religious, and health sectors.

Missouri

(Media Troopers, bookies,

Estados Unidos, Japão e Filipinas se reúnem para fortalecer a solidariedade frente às ações militares agressivas da China

O presidente dos Estados Unidos, Joe Biden, se encontrou para conversas com líderes do Japão e as Filipinas na Casa Branca. Os manobras militares e diplomáticas concorrentes têm como objetivo fortalecer a solidariedade dos parceiros diante das ações militares agressivas da China na região.

Um certo número de destruidores de mísseis guiados dos Estados Unidos e da Coreia do Sul, juntamente com um navio de guerra japonês, participaram do exercício realizado nos dias 10 a 12 de abril no Mar da China Oriental, disputado, onde estão aumentando as preocupações com as reivindicações territoriais da China. A Associated Press foi uma das várias empresas de notícias autorizadas a assistir aos exercícios de base.

Exercícios de guerra anti-submarina e marítima, bem como operações de resgate e salvamento

O almirante-de-esquadra Christopher Alexander, comandante do Grupo de Strike Carrier Nine, disse que os três países realizaram exercícios de guerra anti-submarina, operações de interdição marítima, operações de busca e salvamento e trabalhos focados na comunicação e compartilhamento de dados. Ele disse a jornalistas na quinta-feira no Roosevelt que esses exercícios ajudariam a melhorar a comunicação entre os Estados Unidos e seus aliados e "melhor preparar-nos para uma crise na região."

Jatos de combate F/A-18E Super Hornet decolaram do convés de voo do porta-aviões, que também tinha helicópteros MH-60R Seahawk anti-submarinos. Jornalistas foram transportados por mais de uma hora a partir da Base Aérea de Kadena, o centro de poder aéreo da Pacific do Estados Unidos. Kadena está localizada na ilha sul do Japão de Okinawa, que abriga cerca da metade dos 50.000 tripulantes americanos estacionados no Japão.

"É um tempo agitado; há muita coisa acontecendo no mundo," disse Alexander. "A significância deste exercício é que temos três países de mentes parecidas, três marinhas que acreditam vip cashback 1xbet paz, segurança e estabilidade no Pacífico ocidental."

Japão e Coreia do Sul cooperam mais estreitamente com os Estados Unidos no Pacífico

A participação do Japão e da Coreia do Sul foi outro sinal de melhoria das relações entre os vizinhos frequentemente precavidos. A relação dos dois aliados dos Estados Unidos às vezes tensos tem sido estressada pela memória da colonização de half-century da Coreia Península pelo Japão. Washington tem pressionado-os a cooperarem, para que os três sócios possam lidar melhor com as ameaças da China e da Coreia do Norte.

Uma derrota do partido no governo do Presidente da Coreia do Sul Yoon Suk Yeol, que buscou melhores relações com o Japão, pode restringir seus esforços friendly Japan, mas os especialistas acreditam que as relações permanecerão estáveis.

Os navios de guarda costeira dos dois países também tiveram encontros na Ásia Marítima do Sul. Navios da guarda costeira chinesa também se aproximam regularmente das ilhas controladas pelo Japão no Mar da China Oriental, perto de Taiwan.

Beijing defendeu suas operações na Ásia Marítima Meridional e culpou os Estados Unidos pela tensão. O presidente chinês Xi Jinping teve uma série de conversas esta semana com altos funcionários do Vietnã, Rússia e Taiwan.
